Twenty-one people showed up at the August meeting to hear Tom Ryan discuss Barbeque Logic.

If you were not able to attend, you missed a very information and educational program that can be very useful in winning the election in November.

Tom told us how to talk with family, friends and co-workers about things that matter. He told us that the topics of politics, money and religion are off limits during private conversations. We must learn the art of diplomacy in order to make an impact.

Tom divided people into four different types. He said that 13% of people can be categorized as a cross and the things in their life that are most important are life, marriage and stewardship and they are feelings oriented. 21% of people can be defined with a flag and these people care most about defense, immigration and crime and they are principles oriented. 24% of people are under the category of a dollar sign and they revolve around the economy, spending/taxes and jobs/productivity, and are analytically oriented. The final group of people can be characterized with a heart. They care about education, the environment and healthcare. This final group is also feelings oriented.

When we speak with people we need to make it personal, ask questions, tell stories, use humor and appeal to common sense. THANK YOU TOM FOR DEVELOPING THIS UNIQUE AND INFORMATIVE PROGRAM!

TRUE THE VOTE

Stuart Bailey spoke briefly about a Colorado voter protection group called True The Vote.

There are two million dead people on the United States voter rolls. 67% of Americans support photo voter ID. 64% think election fraud is a problem.

To find out how to get involved with the election process, go to www.TrueTheVote.org and visit Colorado Voter Protection on Facebook.

AN ACTUAL LETTER WRITTEN TO AARP

This letter was sent to Mr. Rand who is the Executive Director of AARP.

THIS LADY NOT ONLY HAS A GRASP OF 'THE SITUATION' BUT AN INCREDIBLE COMMAND OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE!

Dear Mr. Rand,

Recently you sent us a letter encouraging us to renew our lapsed membership in AARP by the requested date. This isn't what you were looking for, but it's the most honest response I can give you. Our coverage gap is a microscopic symptom of the real problem, a deepening lack of faith.

While we have proudly maintained our membership for years and long admired the AARP goals and principles, regrettably, we can no longer endorse its abdication of our values.. Your letter stated that we can count on AARP to speak up for our rights, yet the voice we hear is not ours.

Your offer of being kept up to date on important issues through DIVIDED WE FAIL presents neither an impartial view nor the one we have come to embrace.. We do believe that when two parties agree all the time on everything presented to them, one is probably not necessary. But, when the opinions and long term goals are diametrically opposed, the divorce is imminent. This is the philosophy which spawned our 200 years of government.

Once upon a time, we looked forward to being part of the senior demographic. We also looked to AARP to provide certain benefits and give our voice a power we could not possibly hope to achieve on our own. AARP once gave us a sense of belonging which we no longer enjoy. The Socialist politics practiced by the Obama Regime and empowered by AARP serves only to raise the blood pressure my medical insurance strives to contain. Clearly a conflict of interest there!

We do not understand the AARP posture, feel greatly betrayed by the guiding forces that we expected to map out our senior years and leave your ranks with a great sense of regret.

We mitigate that disappointment with the relief of knowing that we are not contributing to the problem anymore by renewing our membership. There are numerous other organizations which offer discounts without threatening our way of life or offending our sensibilities and values.

This Obama Regime scares the living daylights out of us. Not just for ourselves, but for our proud and bloodstained heritage. But more importantly for our children and grandchildren. Washington has rendered Soylent Green a prophetic cautionary tale rather than a nonfiction scare tactic.

I have never endorsed any militant or radical groups, yet now I find myself listening to them. I don't have to agree with them to appreciate the fear which birthed their existence. Their borderline insanity presents little more than a balance to the voice of the Socialist mindset in power.. Perhaps I became American by a great stroke of luck in some cosmic uterine lottery, but in my adulthood I CHOOSE to embrace it and nurture the freedoms it represents as well as the responsibilities.

Your website generously offers us the opportunity to receive all communication in Spanish.. ARE YOU KIDDING??? The illegal perpetrators have broken into our 'house', invaded our home without invitation or consent. The President insists we keep these illegal perpetrators in comfort and learn the perpetrator's language so we can communicate our reluctant welcome to them.

I DON'T choose to welcome them, to support them, to educate them, to medicate them, or to pay for their food or clothing....American home invaders get arrested...Please explain to me why foreign lawbreakers can enjoy privileges on American soil that Americans do not get? Why do some immigrants have to play the game to be welcomed and others only have to break and enter to be welcomed?

We travel for a living. Walt hauls horses all over this great country, averaging over 10,000 miles a month when he is out there. He meets more people than a politician on caffeine overdose. Of all the many good folks he enjoyed on this last 10,000 miles, this trip yielded only ONE supporter of the current Regime. One of us is out of touch with mainstream America.

Since our poll is conducted without funding, I have more faith in it than ones that are driven by a need to yield AMNESTY. (aka - make voters out of the foreign lawbreakers so they can vote to continue the government's free handouts). This addition of 10 to 20 Million voters who then will vote to continue Socialism will OVERWHELM our votes to control the government's free handouts. It is a "slippery slope" we must not embark on!

As Margret Thatcher (former Prime Minister of Great Britain) once said "Socialism is GREAT - UNTIL you run out of other people's money".

We have decided to forward this to everyone on our mailing list, and will encourage them to do the same..

With several hundred in my address book, I have every faith that the eventual exponential factor will make a credible statement to you.

I am disappointed as all get out !!!! ...I am more scared than I have ever been in my entire life !!!

... I am ANGRY !! ... I am MAD, and I'm NOT gonna take it anymore!

Antonio Villaraigosa is chairman of the Democratic National Convention

Antonio Villaraigosa, the mayor of Los Angeles who was featured on the June 2009 cover of Los Angeles Magazine with the one-word caption, "Failure," is the chairman of the upcoming Democratic National Convention. The obvious reason is that the Obama administration, which views ethnic communities as separate fiefdoms to cultivate, is targeting the Latino community.

Labor Day is an American federal holiday observed on the first Monday in September that celebrates the economic and social contributions of workers. (Too bad so many do not have a job right now).

Labor Day has come to be celebrated as the end of summer and the beginning of fall. As I see leaves turning yellow and the aspen leaves accumulating on my deck, I am reminded of how quickly things can change. Each fallen leaf reminds me of those who have lost a job, lost a home or have died in a foreign war for a country whose very core of existence is being threatened by a President who does not believe that we are the greatest country on earth!

Come November, the trees will be barren of leaves once again. We can help to grow this country into a better season by electing Mitt Romney as President of the United States of America. He may not be our first choice, but he is our ONLY choice. We can no longer afford the "Empty Chair". We need someone to take us back down the road to prosperity. We need to make sure that Labor Day in 2013 is much better than what we have experienced over the past four years. No matter who you may have supported for the office in the past, please make sure Obama does not reside on Pennsylvania Avenue come January, 2013. Please make your vote and voice count.

Thank you!

Fascinating Facts About The U.S. Constitution

(From ConstitutionFacts.com)

Did you know:

The U.S. Constitution has 4,400 words. It is the oldest and shortest written Constitution of any major government in the world.

Of the spelling errors in the Constitution, "Pensylvania" above the signers' names is probably the most glaring.

The Constitution was "penned" by Jacob Shallus, a Pennsylvania General Assembly clerk, for $30 ($726 today).

Constitution Day is celebrated on September 17th, the anniversary of the day the framers signed the document.

Patrick Henry was elected as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention, but declined because he "smelt a rat".

Because of poor health, Benjamin Franklin needed help to sign the Constitution. As he did so, tears streamed down his face.

The first time the formal term "The United States of America" was used was in the Declaration of Independence.

George Washington and James Madison were the only presidents who signed the Constitution.

There was a proposal at the Constitutional Convention to limit the standing army for the country to 5,000 men. George Washington sarcastically agreed with this proposal as long as a stipulation was added that no invading army could number more than 3,000 troops!

John Adams referred to the Constitution as "the greatest single effort of national deliberation that the world has ever seen" and George Washington wrote to the Marquis de Lafayette that "It (the Constitution) appears to me, then, little short of a miracle."
